

"Jesus has left the building."

I wonder if he was thinking?

"Whew!"

"I'm glad to get ot of here!"

Witness what the Palestinians and Isreali's are doing to each other!

When will we ever learn?

Injustice builds on injustice. So the Israeli Jews who escaped Hitler's wrath, are now moving Palestinians out of their homes to be replaced by Jewish settlers.

And Iran stirs the pot of animosity.

I am reading the bio of Albert Einstein who looked into the heart of matter and seemed to have a benign view of creation.

He said imagination is more important than knowledge.

Why can't we imagine a better world?

Prophets like the teenager Greta are trying to.

Thank God for their sane voices amid the clamor.

And so we pray:

Come Lord Jesus.

Do not leave us adrift in turmoil.

Calm the troubled waters

as you did on the Sea of Galilee.

Come Holy Spirt,

Stir up our imaginations

to envision justice which brings peace.

Vei Sancti Spirtus.

Veni Sancti Spiritus!
